

Eva Kroth

THE FLOWERS SPEAK

We always offer ourselves as gifts to you and are happy when you can accept us and our powers.

We are more spirit than matter and it is this that makes us delicate.

We decay quickly because we are not deeply anchored in the Earth. In summer, we fade quickly because you view the spirit as something fleeting.

Our earthly strength lies in the fact that we return time and again through thousands of seeds.

Our diversity is an expression of the infinite beauty and creativity of creation.

Our beauty is also an expression of love for creation.

Your pleasure in us flowers is the answer to our love.

You are body, soul, and spirit.

If you make use of the spiritual powers in our blossoms, your spirit will vibrate with the light frequency stored in our blossoms.

If you work with stones and other energies, we are happy to meet you in all other forms of energy.

We encounter everything in you and through you with the greatest pleasure, because our spirit is in a creative exchange with all of creation.

Copyright © by Eva Kroth
Translation from the German: Annette Charpentier,
Copyright © April 2018